DISCLAIMER: Please note that we are constantly training school staff and updating this list. Some schools may have trained more than one staff member since this document was created. Also, those who have trained may have resigned from the schools listed.

This first page lists all schools who have trained more than one staff member. This list will be your most reliable because more than one trained staff member demonstrates a school's commitment to supporting ALL students in literacy. However, you must still check the school will be able to offer your child MSL instruction, as the school may only offer MSL in particular grades or only as an intervention.

The second page lists schools who have only one trained member of staff. Please be aware that if this teacher leaves the school, unless we are informed, we do not know. You will need to double check with the school that they will be able to offer MSL to your child. Also, please remember that just because a teacher has trained in MSL it doesn't necessarily follow that their school approves and the teacher will be allowed to use MSL in the school context.

Please talk to the school about how they will be able to support your child in all of the grades they will ultimately attend in the particular school before enrolling.
